

Cost Segregation Authority, LLC has been performing cost segregation studies since 1999. Their Cost Segregation experts include CPA's and construction professionals, who are leading experts in their fields. Their cost segregation studies meet and exceed the Internal Revenue Service's (IRS) Audit Techniques Guide. Their experts have been published and presented numerous seminars on cost segregation studies.

Erik himself holds a Bachelor of Applied Science in Accounting from Westminster College. Prior to joining Cost Segregation Authority (CSA), Erik was an operations manager for a multi-million dollar landscaping and design firm in Long Island, NY. Since heading west and joining CSA, Erik has been speaking at local, regional and national events. He brings with him a passion for identifying cost savings and educating commercial real estate owners on the benefits of cost segregation.
